Start at Wray Lane (Reigate Hill) car park.

Walk west over the footbridge and continue past the fort cottages and the fort, to just inside the gate where you will find the Inglis Memorial.

After taking in the view, take the path down to the left of the memorial, leading to steps and then another gate on a chalk path.

Turn left along a footpath below the hill, notice the house on the left of this path built into the cliff.

Continue to the top of this path, then right towards the footbridge.

Cross over the bridge into the car park.
